EVERYTHING YOU READ
MIXES WITH
WHAT YOU ALREADY KNOW

EVERYTHING
YOU READ
BECOMES YOURS!

WHEN YOU READ,
YOU CAN GET
NEW THOUGHTS
AND IDEAS THAT NO ONE HAS THOUGHT OF BEFORE.

THAT'S BECAUSE OUR THOUGHTS ARE LIKE A MIXER.

THE NEW THINGS YOU READ GET
MIXED WITH WHAT YOU ALREADY KNOW.

WHAT A SCARY
ADVENTURE!

A cartoon illustration in a warm, orange-toned style. A boy with a crown and a striped shirt is riding a dragon. The dragon is decorated with blue and yellow patterns. In the background, there is a castle with a flag on top, a bridge, and some trees. The boy has a speech bubble that says "I'M NOT SCARED AT ALL."

I'M NOT SCARED
AT ALL.

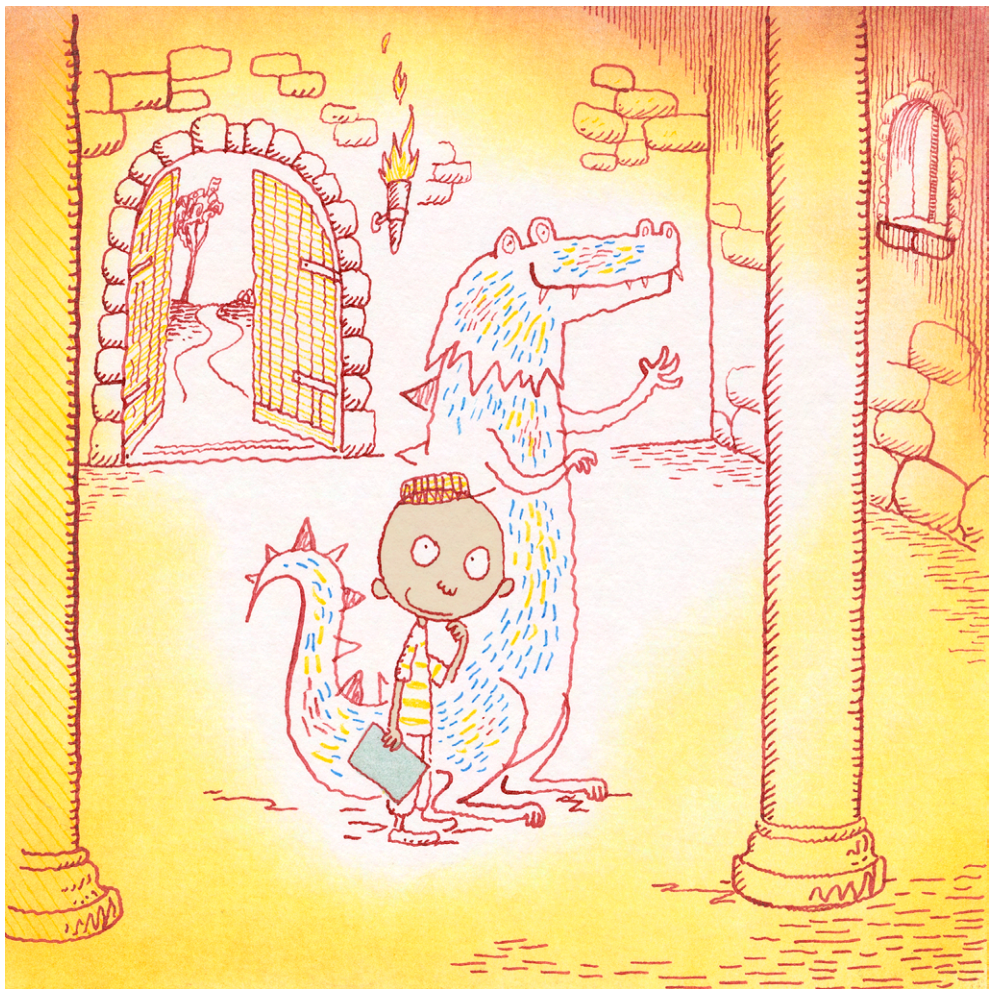

YOU CAN READ THE SAME STORY AS ME,
BUT WE MIX WHAT WE READ WITH OUR OWN THOUGHTS.

THAT'S HOW WE EACH MAKE
OUR OWN STORY.

I CRIED WHEN I READ
THE STORY.

I LAUGHED
ALMOST THE WHOLE TIME.

NOT EVERYTHING WAS SCARY.

A cartoon illustration in a warm, orange-toned style. A woman with a yellow crown and a child with a small crown are sitting on a patterned sofa. The woman is holding a green book, and the child is also holding a green book. A speech bubble above the woman says "NOT EVERYTHING WAS SCARY." In the background, there is a fireplace with a fire, a vase, and some books on a shelf.

I LAUGHED
AT THE KNIGHT AND THE BANANA.

DO YOU THINK THE DRAGON WAS OKAY IN THE END?
